

This is

JEOPARDY!

Presented by:
Nathan Basford
Florida State University

The Rules

- Teams will rotate players at the buzzer (no consulting allowed!)
- You must answer in the form of a question
- Failure to do so will result in an incorrect answer
- Please wait for question to display and be read prior to "buzzing"
- If you answer correctly, you receive the point value
- If you answer incorrectly, you lose point value
 - The next flashing buzzer team gets to answer the question (you must wait until "Judges" have clearly stated that the answer is incorrect)
 - If this team does not answer correctly the remaining 2 teams have a chance to buzz in again
 - Team that correctly answers the question gets to select the next category
- If nobody correctly answers the questions, then the team who previously selected gets to select again
- The judges' decision on all "questions" is final

The Rules

- We will play 1 round, plus Final Jeopardy!
- We will play until all questions are answered, or until there are 10 minutes remaining in the session, at which time we will play Final Jeopardy!
- Prior to Final Jeopardy, the teams must consult and write down the amount of money they wish to wager
- For Final Jeopardy, teams can consult on the answer (This is the ONLY time that you may consult with your team mates)
 - Write the team's answer and wager on paper
 - Appoint a team member to read your answer & reveal your wager

Financial Aid 101	Student Loans	Financial Aid Web Sites	Acronyms	FASFAA
$200	$200	$200	$200	$200
$400	$400	$400	$400	$400
$600	$600	$600	$600	$600
$800	$800	$800	$800	$800
$1000	$1000	$1000	$1000	$1000

Final Jeopardy

- Satisfactory Academic Progress

Final Jeopardy Question

- A new student-specific component of the SAP regulations that provides flexibility for institution to work with students in restoring their Financial Aid Eligibility

Answers

What is the Academic Plan

Thank you!

Have a Great weekend
